

pair246_T_s1.dot:

The Philippines has developed into a natural hub for U.S. contact center support with the use of English as the second national language and primary language of business .