

pair514_T_s1.dot:

The World Trade Organization , the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank have all been criticized for their role in catalyzing the harmful impacts of corporate globalization on people , the environment and sustainable development .