

That request is at odds with the law signed early yesterday , by Bush , directing the federal courts to consider the case de novo without taking into account the state court 's findings .