

Both of these attacks , attributed to the drug trafficking cartels , took place after 10 bombs , placed in nine political offices of the Liberal and Social Conservative parties and in another bank office , exploded early this morning in downtown Bogota