

The greatest threat to life and property associated with a hurricane and tropical storm is storm surge.