

A study of a promising cancer drug was stopped because of a serious side effect.